Commander's Digital Assistant Version 5

The Commander's Digital Assistant (CDA) Version 5, an early spiral-out from Land Warrior, will improve infantry unit battle command and tactical awareness. The CDA provides leaders at company level and above a tactical picture that includes squad and team leader locations. The CDA has U.S. Army Standard Battle Command software and built-in GPS and satellite communications. It is capable of digital messaging over satellite or through other tactical communications systems. The CDA includes a computer processor and disk with embedded L-band communications.
